

Dear Readers,

You can make a difference at Parenting Place!

This January, Parenting Place will be initiating a Parent Advisory Board to provide a voice for parents. The Parent Advisory Board will include parents and staff and will assist Parenting Place in fulfilling its mission. Members will be asked to:

- Attend quarterly meetings where dinner and child care will be provided.
- Contribute their expertise and ideas to the current and future work of Parenting Place.
- Assist with Parenting Place fundraising and marketing efforts.
- Plan and sponsor parent social events.
- Work to involve other parents in volunteer and fundraising opportunities at Parenting Place.

The goal of creating the Parent Advisory Board is to ensure that our programs are driven by the needs of families in our community and to increase parent participation in our organization.

Are you a past or present Parenting Place parents who believes in our mission of reducing the stress and isolation of parenting?

Do you believe you can help Parenting Place become a stronger organization?

Do you want to be a voice for the families at Parenting Place?

If yes, please contact me for an application or to talk more about the roles and responsibilities of being a Parent Advisory Board member.

Salutations,

Gail Sawchuk
Executive Director

“Our biggest fear is not that we are inadequate, our biggest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure.” Marianne Williamson